

MOVING FROM PILOT PROJECTS TO ROUTINE CARE: OVERCOMING THE OBSTACLES

Diane Whitehouse, EHTEL (Brussels, Belgium).

Telehealth has faced considerable challenges in moving from pilots to larger-scale deployment.

Momentum <http://www.telemedicine-momentum.eu> sets out to provide a set of guidelines – a Blueprint – for how scaling-up can be achieved in a more effective way. It draws on some 30 good practice case studies from around the European Union. It is well grounded in practice, and highlights the important work being done by telemedicine "doers". The presentation aims at describing Momentum's primary results, and making known telehealth's core factors for success and overcoming any hurdles, barriers or handicaps. It will test these key critical success factors with the conference audience.
