

Biography

Alison Hopkins is Chief Executive of Accelerate Health Community Interest Company and is based In London, UK. Accelerate provides specialist and complex wound and lymphoedema management to NHS patients in London and the South East. Alison has worked within this speciality since 1989 when she started a leg ulcer clinic in Tower Hamlets. With an MSc in Psychology and Health, her passion continues to be focussed on improving people's lives through delivering a better system of care that provides demonstrably better outcomes. Alison is a Trustee in the Tissue Viability Society and has a number of publications to her name.